He briefed about the current ranking status of the institution and JSS AHER. Also mentioned that, nearly 500 papers have been published by the faculty of the institute & they have attracted nearly 20crores worth research grants in the year 2021. He appreciated the good work done by clinicians, PG students as well as interns during testing times of COVID-Pandemic. He also briefed about the initiation of bridge course to Indian medical students who were distressed by displacement from Ukrain, Russia, China and other countries as per the directions and wish of His Holiness Swamiji.

Graduates Reception address by the Chief Guest:

Chief guest: Dr.S.Kumar in his speech mentioned that the graduation & convocation events are important for the institution as much as to its graduates as they give us a sense of continuity & identity to pass on to the next generation. According to him, our primary goal is to develop people who will be innovative, creative, future trend-setters, and who will be able to do new things, not just repeat what their predecessors did. He mentioned that, most of you will not be entering the medical profession but will instead be joining “health care industries”, which have unique demands on personalities, ethics, and integrity, he urged graduates to always stay alert and be true to themselves and their alma mater. He urged the upcoming doctors to be grateful to their parents, teachers, and the institution that helped to shape them up.

He mentioned two topics that have inspired him; one was a tale of two seas - the Dead Sea and sea of Galilee both receive water from the river Jordan; the sea of Galilee lets out water and is full of marine life; but the dead sea just receives water but does not let it out, it has no outlet & the water within it evaporates, making it salty, so there is no life. He urged graduates to develop their minds like a sea of Galilee, to receive as much & to give as much to society so that life will be full of cheer. He told another story about a little fox who asked his mother, "Where is happiness?" & The mom said it's in your tale! don't follow happiness in your life happiness will follow you. He advised the gathering not to stagnate in life but rather to keep moving forward.

The following three things he requested to Graduates to inculcate during their careers:

- Never hurt anyone intentionally.
- Not to gain money by unethical means.
- Not to discriminate against anyone seeking medical treatment.

He concluded by saying, "Success will introduce us to the world, but failure will introduce the world to us." Future days will not be filled with roses, but faith in God will be our guide. He also congratulated JSS Academy of Higher Education and Research for producing good quality, skilful doctors who are serving the mankind across the world.

Views expressed by Parents:

Smt.Archna Rawal mother of Dr. Rohit Rawal from New Delhi expressed her gratitude to the organisation and institution for providing high quality medical education to her son and she expressed her happiness for choosing this institution and thanked His Holiness for allowing parents to accompany their graduate children to receive the certificates.
